

每月作家
Author of the Month

“Pamela Butchart is an award-winning Scottish children’s book author. She lives in Dundee with her husband, Andy, and their two awesome cats, Bear and Carlos. She teaches philosophy at secondary school, spending her days pondering such questions as “How do I know I’m not really a robot?”

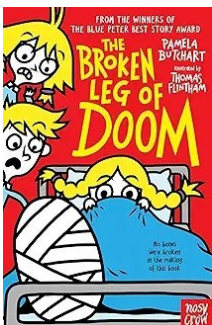

Pamela gets her inspiration from her own childhood which was filled with broken metal detectors, mud pies, haunted primary schools, dinosaurs and exploding balloons filled with rice. She loves cats, Kinder eggs, funny babies, small dogs, tulips, cheese, dinosaurs and her pug pyjamas bottoms.

Pamela was a World Book Day author for 2018 and is the winner of The Children’s Book Award 2016 and the Blue Peter Best Book Award 2015 and she has been shortlisted for The Laugh Out Loud Book Awards 2018 for There’s a Werewolf in My Tent. Her first book came out in 2014 and since then she has had more than twenty books published. Pamela is also the author of two stories for Enid Blyton’s Secret Seven series, The Mystery of the Skull and The Mystery of the Theatre Ghost. She is also the author of the Izzy series.

Pamela is also the author of several picture books, Never Tickle the Tiger is illustrated by Marc Boutavant and was published by Bloomsbury and shortlisted for The Scottish Children’s Book Awards 2016 (“Lindsay Literary Agency”).

“Lindsay Literary Agency”. Lindsay Literary Agency, www.lindsayliteraryagency.co.uk/pamela-butchart/#:~:text=PAMELA%20Butchart%20lives%20in%20Dundee,I'm%20not%20really%20a%20robot%3F. Accessed 18 Dec. 2025.

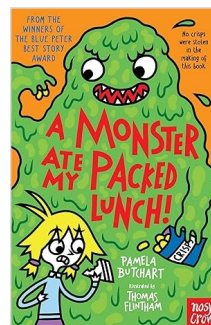

Library Collection (Primary)

The Broken Leg Of Doom

Call number: F BUT

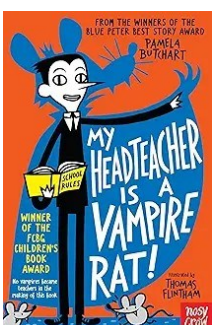

After extreme dancing leaves Maisie with a broken leg in the hospital, strange noises, missing toys, and a tuna-only trolley— suggest her leg might be cursed. Everything is doomed!

A Monster Ate My Packed Lunch!

Call number: F BUT

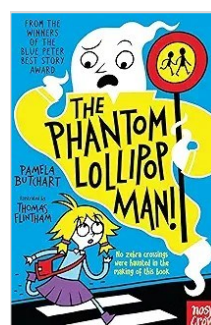

On a school trip a dark, Izzy and her friends discovers a monster is after their packed lunch crisps! Gary is thrilled about the robes and slippers.

My Headteacher Is A Vampire Rat!

Call number: F BUT

In Pamela Butchart's third zany tale, Izzy and her friends believe their new head teacher is a vampire rat and plot vanquish him, citing his scary habits and garlic bread ban.

The Phantom Lollipop Man

Call number: F BUT

Izzy and her friends are shocked by the disappearance of their lollipop man. They suspect he's a phantom, especially with a strange cloud and Izzy's cold legs.