"Lisa Yee (born August 27, 1959) was raised near Los Angeles. She is a New York Times bestselling author. As a kid, she loved reading, opening brand new boxes of cereal (to get the prize), and doing the rides at Disneyland.

Lisa attended Brightwood Elementary School in Monterey Park, CA where she once won an award for best decorated cake. While at Alhambra High School, Lisa was on the debate team and president of the honor society. At the University of Southern California, she majored in English and Humanities, and she also took a bowling class.

Lisa has been an inventor, a hand model (once), and worked for a creative think tank. Her first book, Millicent Min, Girl Genius debuted in 2003. Since then, she's had over 22 more novels published. Lisa's books won many awards, and her backwards handwriting is neater than her regular handwriting. Her huge collection of Winnie the-Poohs is on loan to the White River (Ontario) Winnie-the-Pooh Museum. She's mom to two amazing adult children, and has lots of imaginary friends.

She is the author of the popular DC Super Hero Girls series. Her novel, Maizy Chen's Last Chance, debuted February 2022 won a Newbery Honor, National Book Awards Finalist and Asian Pacific American Award for Literature, and more. Lisa lives in Western Massachusetts, but spends a lot of time in Los Angeles, especially when it's cold" ("About Lisa Yee").
